THE NEWS.

Sand closed on Saturday at 12[illegible].

The 20th Illinois Volunteers have left Fortress Monroe for home.

The Algonquin and Wheeling will be ready for use on race, it is expected, on the 9th inst.

The imperial Flight of Juarez to San Antonio Texas, is conjectured by the Herald of that city.

The amount of national currency issued last week was $1,000,000. The total amount in circulation is $297,000,000.

Lieutenant Swann, nephew of Gov. Swann of Maryland, committed suicide on board the frigate Wabash, on Saturday.

Wm. Mackey, cashier of the sub-treasury at San Francisco is a defaulter to the amount of $60,000.

Unsuccessful efforts have been made to have Gen. Sweeny restored to his rank in the regular army.

Gov. Curtin's health has been much improved by his visit to Cuba, and he contemplates a yearly tramp.

The list of awards to the captors of the assassins' conspirators will be submitted on Monday to the Secretary of War for approval.

Gov. Marshall, of Minnesota, has appointed J. D. Lander, Esq., of Baltimore, his private Secretary.

The reply of our "protestant" correspondent to W. A. Sautman's letter in behalf of free trade, is unavoidably crowded out of this issue, but will appear in Sunday's Tribune.

Sheridan has sent his old enemy, Early, whistling again. Referring to Early's recent letter to show that the Confederate prisoners treated very poorly by the Union authorities, Sheridan responds, outraged that hallowed ground should thus be desecrated, by the "arrant dissembler, the great local question with this feral answer: "Mr. Carrington on a lot in the Cemetery, and we can believe that this is the reason why our prisoners at Mount Hope had not any legal right to refuse her the privilege of burying her cat's remains upon it. The gentleman is a lawyer, and knows his rights in the grave; nor do they impose disability upon his relatives. In our judgment Mrs. Carrington had a right to inter her cat on the lot, and no one has no impropriety in her doing so."

The re-election of James M. Scovell, of Canton, as Secretary of State, by the Illinois Legislature, is said to be the most unanimous vote ever given to that early a most accomplished qualifying officer, and was no doubt justly rendered to a gentleman of his long experience. Mr. Scovell is considered himself ill-treated both in Galesburgh and Congressional, agitations, and a correspondent says: "Mr. Scovell's name was not presented as the referee of Mr. Scovell to appear in the legislature caucus. Without him there was no one to be found who would accept the office for the legislature. Both parties unanimously agreed to him, but he positively refused the position. The Republicans finally gave him the position of President, although he had agreed upon Mr. Burnside to preside over this meeting, by Shoulder himself with a pistol.

The Louisville Journal says it is but justice to state that the funds now undergoing examination, and alleged to have taken place in the treasurer's office of Louisville, are not in any way connected with the Quartermaster's Department of the Depot of Louisville, nor in the hands of the officers in charge of Colonel George E. Clark, Chief Quartermaster's Depot, Captain James B. Dalbeschke, John T. Allen, B. G. DeWolf, and A. M. Tucker, Assistant Quartermasters of Volunteers, who will be on duty at the Louisville Depot during the past year, by order of Brevet Major-General Rufus Ingalls, Chief Quartermaster, and have performed their several duties in such a manner as to be creditable to themselves and in honor to the Department which they represent.

Cleveland is determined to reform its sewerage, and the city engineer, John Whitelaw, has prepared an elaborate plan, involving an expenditure of over $70,000, which the Leader states as follows: All the flats of the city south and west of Ohio street, and the flats on the east side, and to the Rockport on the west side, and to the Rockport on the west side, and to the Rockport on the west
